Submit

1.

You can submit a broad range of content types including traditional research articles, data notes, case studies, method articles and more.

Pre-publication checks

2.

Your research will undergo pre-publication checks to ensure it follows basic publishing policies and standards.

Publication

3.

If your research meets all the pre-publication checks it will be published online, enabling immediate viewing and citation.

Open Peer Review & User Commenting

4.

You select expert reviewers to take part in the open peer review process. Reports are published alongside the article, together with the authors' responses and comments from registered users.